Art Around the School

Our K and G1 students have been busy exploring colour. Whilst most of us are familiar with primary and secondary colours, our K & G1 students are just learning how to mix and create new colours. Printing has been a great way to explore this concept, as the results are immediate. Gelli, mono and bubble printing techniques have all been investigated, and the artwork can be seen displayed around the school. G2 and 3 have also explored colour, but have used cacti as their inspiration for some observational drawings and collages. Our G4 & 5 transdisciplinary unit 'how we express ourself', has focused on street art. Students have been introduced to a variety of artists and have been exploring their techniques. The stencilling technique has been very popular. This work will also be displayed around the school when it is finished.

Art Supplies

The Art department needs your help with supplies! If you have any bits and pieces of toys, figures, caps, buttons etc in primary colors, please bring them in! They will become a part of a large school installation piece!

Grades 4 & 5

Art Talks

Parents took part in the Art Talks Morning yesterday Thursday 18 October. The morning served as an insight into PYP at the end of the first Unit of Inquiry (UOI).

Parents were invited to learn about students' latest summative task: to create something artistic that conveyed an idea, thought or feeling. Students have already taken part in a street walk through SoHo, looking at messages conveyed through graffiti. Students also investigated modern and contemporary art and have also been learning about art history and artists, establishing a base of knowledge which allowed them to analyse and critique art.

The Art Talks Morning gave parents an opportunity to join the conversation and create pieces of art themselves. We thank all those who attended.
